Preschool Ballet

A child's first experience with dance should be one that develops a love and appreciation for the art, yet does not use incorrect technique that will form habits that later have to be undone. Therefore, we always use the correct French terms and simple steps that can be built upon with each advancement to the next level.

Preschool students may find themselves underwater with Ariel, at Cinderella's ball, dancing with Dora or many other fun places – all while using many different props and having fun learning classical-style ballet. Every third week of each session, preschoolers change focus and put on tap shoes for a few minutes at the end of class to discover another dance form. The sixth/final week of each session, preschoolers get to celebrate with a special Prince/Princess celebration, when they wear their royal attire to class!
